"Rule of Gun" Must End; Unusual Peace Marks Irish Day-Strike

CALL FOR SOVIET MADE AT CLOSE OF DAY SHOWN TO BE ANTI-LABOR MOVE

(Associated Press Night Wire)
DUBLIN, April 24.—The 24-hour strike terminated at 9 o'clock tonight when three gigantic demonstrations were held to mark approval of labor's protest against militarism. There were no disorders in connection with the strike but a mild sensation was created by placards posted throughout the city proclaiming an Irish workers' republic. An investigation proved that the proclamation was bogus.

The object of the proclamation apparently was to detract from the success of labor's protest and alienate the sympathy of the employers by suggesting that the labor party had engineered the strike for the purpose of establishing a soviet.

Men and women of all classes, however assembled by thousands in Sackville street tonight and listened to prominent laborites who in speeches explained in strong language that the people did not intend to submit to the rule of the gun.

London is Reassured

LONDON, April 24.—It was after 10 o'clock tonight before messages from southern Ireland, which today has been plunged into complete silence by a one-day strike in protest against the chaos threatening the country, allayed London's anxiety that the anniversary of the 1916 rising would be marked by extensive disorders.

The strike ended at 9 o'clock this evening and the telegraph and telephone wires immediately began bringing in the comforting news from Dublin and Cork that there had been no disorders.

A late report received from Dublin says a body of armed irregulars took possession of Masonic hall there at 7 o'clock this evening. The advice added, it was understood, the building was taken over on behalf of the Belfast boycott committee.

HUNGRY ILLINI TO BE FED; SALVATION ARMY, RED CROSS

(Associated Press Night Wire)
BEARDSTOWN, Ill., April 24.—Coasting down the flooded Illinois river in search of refugees needing assistance, Captain Malloy and his Chicago coast guards reported back to Captain F. R. Brewer, directing Salvation Army relief here, that 100 homeless families, tented near the town of Pearl in Pike county, have almost exhausted their food supply and are in immediate need.

Captain Brewer sent the information to a field officer of the Red Cross now in Beardstown and announced that relief would reach the food sufferers as soon as possible.

BISBEE MAN KILLED IN MOTOR CAR FALL

(Associated Press Night Wire)
BISBEE, April 24.—J. A. Kempton, former chief of police of Bisbee, was killed late today when his automobile left a mountain grade one mile from this city and plunged to the bottom of a ravine, 100 feet below.

AMERICAN FLAGSHIP RUSHED TO CHINA

(Associated Press Night Wire)
MANILA, P. I., April 24.—The flagship Huron of the Asiatic squadron, received rush orders today to sail for China, because of the disturbed conditions there. All officers and men were ordered to go aboard the Huron tonight preparatory for departing tomorrow afternoon.

PRIVATE RAID ON MOONSHINE INVESTIGATED

(Associated Press Night Wire)
LOS ANGELES, April 24.—The investigation of the raid by masked men at Inglewood, a suburb, late Saturday night, in which three men were shot, will take shape tomorrow morning at an inquest into the deaths of M. B. Mosher, Inglewood constable, and one of the raiders, who died from wounds suffered when Frank Woerner, night marshal, opened fire on the party. Officers of the Ku Klux Klan in Los Angeles county will be questioned.

This program was announced late today by W. C. Doran, chief deputy district attorney, following a conference with District Attorney Woolwine. Mr. Doran said that while the purpose of the inquest is simply to establish the cause of death, he proposed to go further into the case.

"We shall endeavor to ascertain who composed the mob who raided Matthias Elduayen's home and compelled Elduayen and members of his family to leave the place after the shooting," the deputy district attorney said. "Furthermore, we shall try to learn what was the inspiration for the raid and who inspired it."

Woerner Justified
As far as responsibility for the death of Mosher was concerned Doran said there was no doubt Woerner shot the constable and was justified in doing so.

W. E. Mosher, son of the slain man, and Leonard Ruegg, a deputy sheriff who were wounded by Woerner, have been subpoenaed as witnesses at the inquest. Young Mosher, according to authorities, made a statement in which he admitted the raid was made by an organization made up of picked men but declined to say what name the organization bore. He said his father, Ruegg and himself were members of the party and that "a couple of the bootleggers were the objectives of the raid."

Ruegg also admitted he was in the party but said he went at the request of the elder Mosher as a peace officer.

William S. Coburn, grand goblin, and W. G. Price, king klegale of the Ku Klux Klan in this county, also will be questioned, it was stated.

GOOD ROADS CIVILIZED ARIZONA; GOVERNOR COMPUTES VALUE OF HIGHWAYS IN WELCOME TO JOINT CONVENTION; NORRIS IS SPEAKER

(Associated Press Night Wire)
PHOENIX, April 24.—The civilizing influence of good roads was emphasized by speakers at the opening of the joint convention of the United States Good Roads association and the Bankhead National Highway association. More than 500 delegates from 26 states were in attendance.

Governor Campbell of Arizona pointed out how good roads had ushered in a new era in this state. "Only a few years ago," he said, "Arizona was simply a collection of communities isolated and alone. Now the entire state has become a unit. More than this: it has been linked definitely with the east, west and north."

Arizona delegates met in special session prior to the opening of the convention. More than 300 men and women road boosters of the state attended the preliminary meeting and listened to addresses of half a dozen speakers.

Thomas G. Norris of Prescott, first president of the Arizona Good Roads association, expressed gratification at the progress being made in Arizona on highway construction.

Local Folk Attend

Prescott and Yavapai county folk are flocking to the United States Good Roads convention, which opened yesterday in Phoenix. This convention is the greatest of such meetings in the state of Arizona which is noted for its good roads conventions.

Not since the days of the Prescott to Phoenix automobile race, which was won by Mrs. Harry T. Southworth, piloting a Ford; not since the days when T. G. Norris got up on his hind legs and hollered for good roads in this state, a practice in which he since gained state-wide fame as the father of the Arizona highway movement—not since these events has so momentous a gathering been held in the state for the improvement of roads and highways.

Delegates from 26 states representing the United States Good Roads association, the Bankhead National Highway association and the Arizona Good Roads association, were arriving in Phoenix yesterday. As pioneer in the state's good roads movement and former president of the state association, T. G. Norris of this city delivered the address of welcome on behalf of the Arizona Good Roads association, speaking in the place of President O. C. Parker of Tucson, who was ill.

Among people from this city and county who are attending the convention are the five men forming the good roads committee of the chamber of commerce, Robert E. Tally and H. DeWitt Smith of Jerome, O. A. Hesla and T. G. Norris of Prescott and W. J. Martin of Bumblebee. The Yavapai county highway commissioners, R. E. Moore, chairman, and J. E. Wagner of Jerome, A. E. Gage and Ben Ward of Prescott and C. P. Mullen of Hillsdale, are attending, as is Joseph H. McCarthy, county engineer. The board of supervisors, W. W. Midgley, chairman; C. C. Stukeley and L. S. Colwell, are also attending. Others present from Yavapai are:

Francis S. Viele, James S. Douglas, R. W. Wingfield, Camp Verde; Fred Emery, Wilbur J. Mayer, H. A. Wagner and L. F. Wilson, Mayer; G. M. Colvocoresses and D. W. McElroy, Humboldt; Winchester Dickinson, Ash Fork; L. J. Haselfield, Kirkland; W. L. Richards, Wickenburg; E. J. Monroe, Camp Verde; J. W. Stewart, Simmons, and Chris Totten, A. B. Peach, A. L. Smith, G. H. Bishop and J. S. Acker, of this city.

COME ALIVE

FRONTIER DAYS this year is coming to be a sort of a dare. We dare you to do it, says one set of stay-at-homes. We dare you not to, replies the more hopeful element. Those who do the real work of arranging and carrying out the wild west program, are saying nothing. They have nothing to say. If they are given the word, they will go ahead and do their work. But if the word is not spoken, these men and women are powerless.

It is a shame that any question has ever been allowed to come up about the greatest and best wild west sports program ever held. If Prescott omits the celebration this year it amounts to just this: telling five to ten thousand visitors they needn't come. It involves the desecration of an advertising institution that has won this city more public attention than anything else in the world.

Genoa may be in the date lines because it has a conference; Belfast is frequently mentioned in connection with riots. Tokio gets its name in the paper by reason of the visit of the Prince of Wales. But these pieces of publicity are fleeting and evanescent. When the economic conference is over, when the riots are quelled, when the prince has gone home, nobody will ever feel a deep-seated urge to visit Genoa and Belfast and Tokio because of those persons and things.

But with us it is different. Prescott, made known by its Frontier Days, draws people here to make their homes; it brings in capital for investment and then provides generously the place to invest it. Who with any reason in his skull can fail to see it?

By noon today every seat at the chamber of commerce dinner ought to be spoken for; the diners should be prepared in their minds the short, snappy purposeful speeches they are going to make, and resolving that if anything whatever is put to a vote, their response shall be "AYE!"

WICKEDEST CITY MOVES TO OUST EX-PARSON WITH REFORMING BUG

(Associated Press Night Wire)

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 24.—A committee of nearly 40 personal friends of the Rev. George Chalmers Richmond, unfrocked minister at Evanston, Wyo., today agreed to wait upon him and try to induce him to give up his attempt to reform Evanston, which he has termed the most wicked city in America.

Latest reports from Evanston indicate that the former minister does not intend to leave. "My father fought four years in the Civil war and I do not propose to dishonor his service," he said in a formal statement.

Messages received here today by the Wyoming State Tribune said that the report that Rev. Richmond was in danger of mob violence and that he had been forced to seek protection at the home of District Judge J. R. Arnold did not correctly reflect the situation there. "There was no suggestion of mob action against Richmond," one dispatch declared, "but there was held a meeting of representative business and professional men with the city council at which it was decided that his vituperation against the town and its people had resulted in feeling so bitter that it was advisable that he should leave. The only time he took refuge at Judge Arnold's home was when he went there asking for food and representing that there was a mob after him."

PISTOL SETTLES ARGUMENT OVER DRY LAW BETWEEN TWO EDITORS

(Associated Press Night Wire)

DURANGO, Colo., April 24.—William L. Wood, 35 years old, city editor of the Durango Herald, was shot and killed here today by Rod S. Day, 47, editor of the Durango Democrat.

The shooting occurred in Main street in the business district. Day gave himself up and is being held at the sheriff's office. No witnesses to the shooting have been found.

The trouble between the two men is said to have grown out of editorial articles appearing in the two papers. It is said to have begun when the Herald printed a clipping from another Colorado newspaper which declared the Democrat was one of the few newspapers in the country fighting the eighteenth amendment to the constitution. The exchange of editorial comment had been going on about a week. It finally grew personal.

When Day and Wood met today an argument was started. Wood is alleged to have struck Day, breaking the latter's nose and inflicting other injuries. Day then is alleged to have drawn a revolver and to have fired two shots. Wood died in a hospital an hour later. Day declined to make a statement.

Wood was married and came here from Montrose, Colo.

SUB-CHASER CAUGHT BUT NONE OF ITS SCOTCHLOAD

(Associated Press Night Wire)

NEW YORK, April 24.—Customs officials announced today that they were working to smash a rich bootlegger ring which they charged had mobilized a fleet of former submarine chasers to meet the creation of America's "dry navy."

The agents are working on the theory that the swift craft that once pursued the German U-boats, and were sold to private owners after the war, now are posing as naval vessels and, commanded by officers in the uniform of the United States, already have succeeded in running $3,000,000 worth of rum into the United States from Bermuda and Havana.

The announcement of the discovery of the alleged smuggling scheme was made after former submarine chaser 101 rechristened the "Fidus" had been nabbed in New York harbor by a police boat and a customs launch, after she had passed quarantine and was darting toward a pier. Customs men claimed that they found aboard her numerous charts with marked landings along the Atlantic coast and Hudson river. No liquor was found aboard her and the crew told a hair-raising tale of having had their cargo plundered by pirates off the Long Island coast yesterday.

The ex-chaser, said to bear British registry, was tied up at the Battery, where tonight she was held on a technical charge that she left Bermuda without clearance papers. Her captain, who gave his name as John Kelly, and his crew of seven were taken to the customs house for a severe grilling. After the examination, which was attended by a representative from the office of the British consul-general, Assistant United States Attorney Falk said:

"Kelly wore the uniform of a United States naval officer. We have not yet made any charges against him and the crew. It is understood that the Fidus carried 2,100 cases of choice Scotch whiskey from Bermuda and that it is what we want to find out. The vessel failed to show on her manifest any cargo and after questioning by customs agents it was decided to take her into port."

United States agents who said they believed the name "John Kelly" fit the name of the captain's real name was M. Stanley Clarke of Brooklyn, intimated there was a possibility that there might be brought a net the captain a charge of wearing an ensign's uniform illegally.
